EDGARA WALLACE

(Richard Horatio) Edgar Wallace (1875-1932)

Kraków 2004

Wstęp:

Genezą tego opracowania były:

- moja emerytura,
- chęć powtórzenia swego rodzaju „zabawy umysłowej” którą przeżyłem przy innej pracy podobnego charakteru,
- konstatacja o braku w polskim piśmiennictwie bibliografii tegoż autora.

Już w dobrze zaawansowanej pracy, zdobyłem niedostępną w Polsce bibliografię „The British Bibliography of Edgar Wallace” z roku 1969, która stała się podstawą zreorganizowania moich dotychczasowych zapisów, dotyczących angielskich wydań tego autora. By rozszerzyć zakres informacji, dodałem również informacje o wydaniach w polskim języku, jak i w niemieckim oraz francuskim, które jednak z braku dostępnych źródeł są niepełne.

Polskie przekłady różnych tłumaczy względnie opracowywujących nowe wydania, ukazywały się tak przed drugą wojną, jak i po niej. Wydało je kilkanaście wydawnictw, pod różnymi tytułami – bez odniesienia się do tytułu oryginału. Niestety informacje o przedwojennych przekładach pochodzą ze źródeł wtórnych, bowiem nie możliwym stało się obecnie zdobycie nie „zacytanych” egzemplarzy, które w niektórych bibliotekach figurują raczej jako zniszczone lub zagubione egzemplarze.

Muszę tutaj nadmienić, że nie znalazłem w swoich poszukiwaniach dotąd polskiej biblioteki tak naukowej jak i publicznej z pełnym kompletem powojennych wydań tego autora. Zresztą podobnie jest z wydawnictwami zgranicznymi- tam też trudno trafić na większy zbiór wydanych książek tego autora.

Moje niniejsze opracowanie składa się z szeregu tabel, częściowo uporządkowanych wg bibliografii jak wyżej ze znakiem numeru kodu, jak również alfabetycznie i rokiem wydania książki. Myślę, że opracowania te przydadzą się dla poszukujących informacji bibliograficznych, choć zdaję sobie sprawę, że nie wyczerpują w pełni tego tematu.

Tytuły opatrzone wytłuszczonym numerem kodu pokrywają się z danymi wymienionymi w podanej wyżej angielskiej bibliografii, ta jednak obejmuje tylko wydane w zasadzie w Anglii książki a nie wszystkie wydane w języku angielskim.

Notki w języku angielskim pozostawiłem nie tłumaczone w wersji takiej jaką zdobyłem poprzez Internet z aukcji lub komisowej sprzedaży używanych książek. Notki w języku polskim pochodzą z winiet polskich wydań.

Należy też tutaj wspomnieć, o wielu przeróbkach wcześniej wydanych publikacji w czasopismach a nawet książkach, pod różnymi tytułami, co komplikuje jasne odtworzenie wielu nazw-tytułów. Już w czasie życia autora w niektórych publikacjach miał swój udział jego sekretarz Robert Curtis a już po śmierci autora wydawał jego publikacje jako współautor.

W końcu przepraszam czytelnika tego opracowania, że dla własnej wygody nie stosowałem tak niemieckich jak i francuskich znaków diakrytycznych, oraz za niejednoznaczne stosowanie odpowiednio dużych liter w nazwach-tytułach książek.

Kraków, grudzień 2005.

Życiorys-biografia

Edgar Wallace (1875-1932) w pełni: Richard Horatio Edgar Wallace

Urodził się 1-go kwietnia 1875 roku w Greenwich (Londyn) jako nieślubne dziecko. Jego rodzicami była para aktorów, Polly Richards i Richard Horatio Edgar Marriott, który użył fałszywego nazwiska Walter Wallace w dokumencie urodzenia syna Edgara Wallace. Jako dziecko dziewięciodniowe został oddany na wychowanie i adoptowany przez rodzinę rybaka Geoga Dicka Freeman`a [i tak też właściwie winien się nazywać].

Rósł i uczył się w Południowym Londynie. Miał bardzo trudne dzieciństwo. Szkoły opuścił w wieku lat 12-tu. Od jedenastego roku życia rozpoczął pracować na Fleet Street sprzedając prasę. Następnie pracował do lat 18-tu jako służący, roznosiciel gazet i mleka, jako pomocnik rybaka, jako robotnik budowlany itp., - potem służył w wojsku w Royal Kent Regimentie od 1893 do 1896. Próbował też pisać drobne artykuły w gazetach.

W 1896 roku został wysłany do Południowej Afryki w służbie Medical Staff Corps. W tym czasie spotykał się z tamtejszą parą pisarzy; duchownym Wiliamem Shaw Caldecott i jego żoną Marion. Pomagali oni mu w opanowaniu pisarskiej sztuki. Pisarstwo rozpoczął pisząc wiersze w stylu Rudyarda Kiplinga. Został w międzyczasie korespondentem różnych czasopism i zaczął pisać wiersze, które później zestawił w książce „The Mission that Failed” w 1898 roku i w innych wydaniach.

Po zwolnieniu się w 1899 roku został korespondentem Reutera i londyńskiego Daily Mail. Jednak jego raport o Horatio Herbercie Kitchnerze tak zezłościł wpływowego brytyjskiego feldmarszałka, że zakazano mu bycia korespondentem wojennym, aż do pierwszej wojny światowej.

W 1901 roku ożenił się z Iwy Caldecott i rozwiódł w 1918. Z pierwszą swą żoną miał dwóch synów i dwie córki. W 1902 roku był edytorem w Rand Daily Mail w Johannesburgu, zanim powrócił do Londynu. Podczas wojny rosyjsko-japońskiej, 1904-1905 był wysłany przez Daily Mail do Vigo, dla sprawdzenia konfliktu w którym Rosjanie otwarli ogień na brytyjską flotę rybacką, wierząc że to japońska flota. W tym okresie zapoznał się z działalnością wywiadowczo-szpiegowską co miało niewątpliwy wpływ na jego późniejsze powieści kryminalno-detektywistyczne. Jego znana opowieść szpiegowska „Code No.2” została ogłoszona w czasopiśmie Stand Magazine w kwietniu 1916.

Jego pierwsza powieść „The Four Just Men” [Zemsta sprawiedliwych] została napisana w 1904 roku i opublikowana (nie mógł znaleźć wydawcy) w jego własnym specjalnie utworzonym wydawnictwie: Tallin Press w roku 1905. Przyniosła mu ogromny sukces, ale i porażkę finansową. To powieść o grupie która wzięła prawo w własne ręce.

Ale dopiero powieść „Sanders of the river” [Sandi z nad rzeki] w 1911 roku ugruntowała jego pisarstwo. Jest to powieść o przedstawicielu Wielkiej Brytanii w środkowej Afryce. Cały cykl powieści o Mr. Commisioner Anders i Bosambo – plemiennym króliku mieści się w przedziale czasowym 1909 – 1920.

Wallace pracował w okresie 1900 do 1910 w wielu czasopismach, między innymi:

Daily Mail 1903 – 1907

Standard 1910

The Week-End Racine Supplement 1910 – 1912

Evening News 1910 – 1912

The Story Journal 1913

Town Topics 1913 – 1916

Później był felietonistą wyścigów konnych w The Star (1927-32) i Daily Mail (1930-32).

Podczas Pierwszej Wojny Światowej był specjalnym „odpytywaczem” w ministerstwie wojny. W roku 1921 poślubił swą sekretarkę jako drugą żonę, Violetę King. Była ona o 23 lata młodsza od niego i miał z nią córkę Penelope.

Całe swe życie pochłonięty był tym, żeby uciec od smutnych przeżyć dzieciństwa i młodości. Marzył o zrobieniu majątku i wejściu do „wielkiego świata”.

Wszystko to nie zapowiadało jego późniejszej popularności jako pisarza i tego, że pozostawi po sobie blisko 175 powieści, ca 24 sztuk teatralnych i wiele scenariuszy filmowych, napisanych w ciągu dwudziestu ośmiu lat, nie licząc setek artykułów w różnych czasopismach i drobnych utworów. To on był autorem scenariusza do filmu King-Kong (1932). W latach dwudziestych ubiegłego wieku w Anglii uznawano go jako najlepiej sprzedającego się autora zaraz po Biblii.

Przed drugą wojną światową wydano w Polsce ca 70 jego powieści [+ 35 powtórnych wydań], po wojnie 5, [+ 10 powtórek]. Był bardzo pracowitym i wydajnym pisarzem – w „latach dwudziestych” używał wyłącznie dyktafonu, a teksty przepisywała maszynistka, która była rekordzistką w szybkim pisaniu na maszynie. Czasem używał pseudonimu literackiego – Cloud Richard.

Zdobył ogromną popularność, ale sukcesu finansowego nie odniósł – pozostawił swoim spadkobiercom blisko 150 tysięcy funtów szterlingów długów. Pod koniec swego krótkiego życia, żył ekstrawagancko, wiele czasu spędzał w ekskluzywnym hotelu Carlton w Londynie, grał w wyścigach konnych stawiając na przegrane konie. Dopiero w 1934 roku, po sukcesach jego filmów, spadkobiercy spłacili długi i zaczęli zarabiać na tantiemach z książek a szczególnie z filmów.

Zmarł nagle w Hollywood 10 lutego 1932. Jego pierwsza żona Ivy Wallace zmarła 14 miesięcy po swoim mężu.

W roku 1969 najmłodsza córka Penelope Wallace założyła stowarzyszenie „The Edgar Wallace Society” w Londynie, celem propagowania osiągnięć ojca. Stowarzyszenie wydaje magazyn „Crimson Circle”. Córka zmarła w 1997 i prezesurę stowarzyszenia objęła jej wnuczka - też Penelope.

28.	Eve's Island	1916	Himself a keen racing man, the late Edgar Wallace has here brought one of his favourite pastimes into an unusual and gripping novel dealing with hidden treasure and piracy on the high seas. Previously published as Captain Tatham of Tatham Island and The Island of Galloping Gold. The fourth of Wallace's novels, an adventure story rather than a detective story No date - first edition under the title Eve's island - previously published as 'The Island of the Galloping Gold' (dates est at 1910)
29.	Flat 2	1924
30.	Forty-eight short stories	1927
31.	Four Square Jane	1929	Who is Four Square Jane? Although her true identity remains hidden until the end of the story, one thing is for sure: she is one of the most daring and successful crooks from the pen of Edgar Wallace. Her resourcefulness knows no bounds as she employs female cunning to get away with a series of risky crimes performed with neatness and cleverness, which cannot but evoke admiration.
32.	Good Evans	1927	Good Evans continues the life of Evans, Edgar Wallace's Cockney tipster and 'the wizard of Camden Town'. Follow the loves, predictions and calamities of this likeable hero of the Turf in the seventeen tales of this book. It is not only race-lovers who will love Evans, but lovers of life itself. From the author of More Educated Evans.

Now he's betrayed him again and there'll be hell to pay.
36.	Hands up 324; Hands up
37.	Heroes all; Gallant deeds of the war	1914
38.	Jack O` Judgement	1920	Mr. Wallace's just but law-breaking men are famous, but this Jack O'Judgment is King of them all. The blackmailers he squelches are so odious that no stirrings of pity mar our enjoyment of his weird triumphs. "Stafford Kind, a refined police investigator, sets out to destroy Colonel Dan Boundary, one of Wallace's typical villains-an unctuous master criminal. Cocaine, gambling, show girls, and stage-door Johnnies add complications and color."
39.	Kate Plus Ten [Kate plus 10]	1917	The book opens with the theft of Lady Moya Felton's pearl necklace. Inspector Pretherston, an old beau is sent to investigate. Initially the theft appears to be an inside job, but still. Inspector Michael Pretherston (whose superior officer is series character T.B. Smith) develops a fondness for the criminal classes.
40.	Kennedy the con. Man	1963
41.	King Kong	1932	Taller than a five-story building, capable of crushing airplanes with his bare hands, ruler of a lost empire of prehistoric monsters..The World-Famous story of Beauty and the Beast which has thrilled and amazed countless millions all over the world!"
42.	Kitchener`s Army and the Territorial Forces	1915	Illustrated history of the training of Kitchener's New Army. A poignant work written as it was before the bloodbaths of 1916.

43.	Lieutenant Bones	1918	"Once again we meet Commissioner Sanders, Lieutenant Bones, Lieutenant Tibbits, Hamilton and last but not least that old scamp Bosambo, in their familiar African setting. Whether wrangling with the wily natives over taxes or engaged in other amusing exploits, this story is most realistically narrated and is full of whimsical humour.." Hmmm?, A Sanders of the River adventure, featuring Commissioner Sanders, captain Hamilton and Lieutenant Tibbetts, doing their best to dispense peace and justice in the huge West African territories.
44.	More educated Evans	1926	The further escapades of the incorrigible Evans, Edgar Wallace's Cockney hero of the Turf feature in these twelve tales. There are bets, bookmakers, horses, tip-offs, winners, journalists and women. There is banter, humour and much fun to be had along the way. The further escapades of the incorrigible Evans, Edgar Wallace's Cockney hero of the Turf feature in these twelve tales. (#1757) Film. Motion Pictures. Hollywood. Detective Fiction
50.	Mystery and Adventure	1944
51.	Nicholson`s nek Wiersze	1900
52.	Nig-Nog and other Humorous stories	1934
53.	Number six [we shell see]	1920
54.	On the Spot	1931	1st. Wallace title made into movie, has movie illustration on cover of a gangster holding gun on one guy and oriental woman (Anna May Wong) standing behind him. Book is beautiful and tight and dj is in very nice shape Nobody ever disagreed with Tony Perelli twice.. in the Chicago of the 1920's he ruled his empire unchallenged.. but he was soon taught that loyalty can never be bought. Another typical Edgar Wallace crime novel. Tells the story of characters such as Tony Perelli and Red Galway. A justice system that the west and the middle west understood and countenanced all too frequently.
55.	Other Man	1911
56.	Penelope of the "Polyantha";	1926
57.	People; A short autobiography; Edgar Eallace: The biography of a phenomenon	1926	First Edition. This Crime Club book is Edgar Wallace's autobiography. He writes of his experiences in crime reporting and how he learned to read people. He wrote over 44 mysteries.
58.	Planetoid 127 and The Sweizer Pump	1929	Two mysteries printed together, written by Richard Horatio Edgar Wallace, cited in Hubin. 'Planetoid 127' is a short novel of communication by radio with another world on the other side of the sun in earth's orbit." "The Sweizer Pump" is a crime story.

59.	Private Selby „Sale“	1912	There is a very interesting Publishers Note in the front which says “This book, originally published in 1912, two years before the outbreak of the Great War, has been widely recognized as one of the most remarkable of the works which foretold a war between Britain and the great Continental power, and there is an extraordinarily close parallelism between the author’s previsionings and war-time events as we have since known them. Time and again the reader forgets the prophetic character of the main plot in the convincing identity with subsequent history of much of the detail of this book by an author who foresaw while statesmen still refused to foresee”
60.	Private Shelby	1909
61.	Red aces; Red aces, being three cases of Mr. Reeder	1929	3 stories of Mr. J. G. Reeder, sequel to The Murder Book of Mr. J. G. Reeder Back panel testifies to how popular Edgar Wallace was at that time. Says that "In England, every 6th book purchased is an Edgar Wallace novel" and goes on to say that "In Germany, every 30 seconds a Wallace book is bought-more than 1,250,000 a year." That's a lot of books.
62.	Room 13; Room thirteen.	1924	Dartmoor.. all the time Johnny Gray was held there he thought about the Big Printer, the man who had put him there..
63.	Sanders	1926	All the land between the Ghost Mountains and the River With One Bank (known to Europeans as the sea) was the territory of which Mr Commissioner Sanders ruled. District Commissioner Sanders and his two assistants, Hamilton and "Bones", have to sort out troubles in the "land of the big river" following a series of murders. Short stories set in Africa - witchdoctors, human sacrifice and tribal jealousies. A Sanders of the River adventure, featuring Commissioner Sanders, captain Hamilton and Lieutenant Tibbetts, doing their best to dispense peace and justice in the huge West African territories
64.	Sanders of the River	1911	Collectible pb-adventures of commissioner Sanders in the wilds of West Africa. A Sanders of the River adventure, debuting Commissioner Sanders, doing his best to dispense peace and justice in the huge West African territories. Reeder' and 'Red aces'.
72.	The [illustrated] King Kong	1976
73.	The Admirable Carfew	1914	Novel about the rather self-possessed journalist (he hated being called a "reporter") Carfew, he of no first name.
74.	The Adventures of Heine	1919
75.	The Angel of Terror	1922	James Meredith is condemned to death for the murder of Felix Bulford, a crime he swears he did not commit-but the testimony of his fiancée seals his fate. Newspaper reporter Jack Glover and Mr. Charles Rennett are determined to clear him, but where to start?. A prisoner framed for murder apparently kills himself after making a marriage of convenience with a beautiful young woman.
76.	The Arranways Mystery	1932	Originally published in 1931 as "The Coat of Arms" this appears likely to be the first American printing of one of Wallace's later novels. "The secret return of a stolen gold cup to Arranways Hall. . . the subsequent murder of Keith Keller. . . were they part of the same pattern of mystery and death that seemed to trap Lord Arranways? . . . Collett of Scotland Yard asked that question, but his answer was stranger even than the dark problem he attacked."
77.	The Avenger	1920	"..THE AVENGER--where the sinister Head-Hunter and the terrifying ape combine in an eerie country setting to make this one of the most gripping thrillers he [Edgar Wallace] ever wrote."--from the introduction by Penelope Wallace. Mike Brixan, FO investigator has the task of catching the HeadHunter..who baffles the police with his cold-blooded murders!. Edition of 1920s Edgar Wallace thriller about an investigator in the British Foreign Office who must track

			down an unknown terrorist who calls himself the Head Hunter
78.	The biography of a phenomenon	1939
79.	The Black	1929
80.	The black Abbot	1926	The ghost of the Black Abbot has been seen near the old abbey by Cartwright the grocer. Harry Alford, 18th Earl of Chelford is engaged to Leslie Gine, sister of Arthur, solicitor and gambler with the family fortune. The Earl had originally asked his secretary Mary Wenner to be his bride but his half brother Richard intervened to stop the marriage. Plotting revenge, Mary proposes she and Arthur marry. Her dowry she insists will be fifteen tons of Spanish gold the missing Chelford treasure. 318 pages.
81.	The blue hand	1925	The heroine, the unknown heiress to a large fortune, gets into the hands of an unscupulous doctor, the son of an old woman drug-maniac who is enjoying the fortune that really belongs to the girl. Aircraft figure prominently in the denouement of this very dramatic story, and the hero's adventures in saving the girl he loves are as vivid as any that the pen of Mr. Edgar Wallace has described "Lady Mary Danton and her infant daughter disappeared when Jim Steele, Mr. Salter's legal assistant, was five. Almost 20 years later, the Danton fortune is about to be distributed to Digby Groat and his mother. But Jim is uneasy. Can he solve the mystery? And what does it hove to do with the Thirteen Gang? Is he in over his head?".
82.	The book of all power	1921	To say what was in The Book of All Power, that book which was desired by so many, from Soviet officials to his Imperial Highness, would be to rob Mr Edgar Wallace of half of the thunder. Suffice to say that what the book really does contain comes as a splendid surprise in the last few pages of an especially vivid story. For from the moment that the hero gets his appointment with an oil company in Russia, to his emergence from that country with a Grand Duchess as his wife, there is not a page empty of pulsations and excitement.
83.	The Books of Bart	1927
84.	The Brigand	1926	'He is young, handsome, incredibly quick-witted and possessor of a devilish sense of humour. His self-appointed missionis to fleece the undeserving rich- in which he is delightfully successful
85.	The Calendar Sztuka	1929
86.	The calendar	1930	Horse-racing was Edgar Wallace's special hobby, Thriller-

			writing was his business. In this behind-the-scenes story of the Turf he combine the two with stunning effect - the drama of a man who, in a moment of folly, agrees to 'pull' his horse in a big race. Horse racing and romance tale set in and around Ascot and Newmarket and their famous race courses
87.	The case of Joe Attymer
88.	The Clever One	1928
89.	The clue of the new pin	1923	The strange story of one of the most ingenious murders ever committed. A much-guarded mansion, with its mysterious vault, held an odd but significant collection-- a lacquered box from China, a famous actress's jewels and a tiny pin. What was their secret?.
90.	The clue of the silver key	1930
91.	The Clue of the Twisted Candle	1916	When a train derailment strand mystery writer John Lexman on the rainy road to Beston Priory and he arrives home only to find Remington Kara already there to see him, his wife Grace has a premonition of evil. Soon Lexman is stunned to find that he has murdered a man! Has Kara set him up, and can Assistant Commissioner of Police T.X. Meredith unravel the clues in time to save him?.
92.	The Coat of Arms	1931
93.	The Colossus	1926	Even the richest man in England was no match for Carlton of Scotland Yard. 'Connect, if you can,' said Inspector Carlton, 'the note of this Marling, who wishes to retain his writing materials; your disreputable Uncle who has developed a craze for the cinematograph; explain a certain letter that was never posted and never delivered, yet was found in a frozen puddle; fit in the murder of Mrs. Gibbins. .
94.	The council of justice	1908	Reprint Undated (1920's) - A generally good copy of this popular author's third crime thriller originally published in 1908. London is threatened by the Red Hundred, a sinister criminal organisation led by a beautiful and dangerous revolutionary.. only the Council of Justice stands in their way.. The men who composed the Council of Justice placed themselves above the code of normal justice. They waged war against great world criminals and pitted their strength and their intellects against the most powerful organizations of the underworld

95.	The crime book of J.G. Reeder; Terror kept	1929
96.	The Crimson Circle	1922	It was a very ordinary postcard except that it bore no address, and a big circle of crimson touched its four edges. . . . If it had not been for the accident which saved a criminal from the guillotine there would have been no Crimson Circle mystery. Instead, some years after this lamentable miscarriage of justice, there appeared in England a ruthless and mysterious blackmailer, who, by careful organization and a display of remarkable patience and... A killer stalked the streets of London, unknown to his victims and a mystery even to his couriers of blackmail and death. 118.	The Four Just Men	1905	This is the story of how four men set themselves to avenge or prevent acts of legal injustice. They threaten to murder the Foreign Secretary if he refuses to withdraw from Parliament a Bill which will result in handing over to a corrupt foreign Government men who are refugees from persecution. In spite of the mobilization of all London's detective and police forces, the threat is carried out at the exact time announced beforehand, and Sir Philip Ramon is killed in his office in Whitehall while thousands of people crowd the streets. This title was Wallace's first novel. Published in 1905 it was followed in short order by about two hundred titles before his early death in 1932--about one a month. The first and one of the most famous of Edgar Wallace's thrillers that became the basis of a great TV series starring Jack Hawkins, Vittorio de Sica, Dan Dailey and Richard Conte. Wallace's first mystery but not his first book. Wallace's first book, published with a £500 prize to the readers who solved the mystery. This Dover reprint includes

			the complete text of the first edition, the concluding chapter from a later edition and a facsimile of Wallace's original contest blank. He originally published the book without a concluding chapter and offered cash prizes to readers who could figure out the ending. When the Foreign Secretary Sir Philip Ramon receives a threatening, greenish-grey letter signed FOUR JUST MEN, he remains determined to see his Aliens Extradition Bill made law. A device in the members' smokeroom and a sudden magnesium flash that could easily have been nitro-glycerine leave Scotland Yard baffled. Even Fleet Street cannot identify the illusive Manfred, Gonsalez, Pioccart and They - FOUR JUST MEN dedicated to punishing by death those whom conventional justice can not touch. The famous novel that launched Edgar Wallace as one of the top crime novelists of the 20th century. In a quiet cafe in Spain, sipping coffee and glancing through newspapers, the four just men look harmless enough. But when a threatening letter reaches the desk of the British Foreign Secretary and is then publicised in the national press, the police force is thrown into turmoil, for the four just men are dedicated to preventing injustice by any means, even the most violent, and they execute their plans with ruthless precision. Set against the hurly-burly of the London streets at the turn of the century; this gripping novel poses one of the most teasing puzzles in the history of crime fiction. The novel which made Edgar Wallace famous as a writer of detective thrillers, this is a story of suspense and excitement as police struggle to protect a member of parliament from a serious death threat.

218.	White Face	1930	When superintendent Mason untangled the threads of London crime, Australian bank robbery, South African swindling, that enmeshed White Face, the solitary bandit who terrorized London, he found... A legend of robbery and murder in a white mask centered around Dr. Marford's clinic in a squalid almost derelict area of London's dockland. A mystery involving Michael Quigley of Scotland Yard.
219.	Writ in Barracks Wiersze	1900	Author's rare second book (preceded by a pamphlet), containing poetry inspired by the Boer War. The author's second book, a collection of Kiplingesque verse from the Boer War. Includes Tommy to his Laureate, a poem in which Tommy Atkins addresses Kipling.
220.	Britain`s great men	1914
221.	Famous Men and Battles of the British Empire		The collection is of seven articles entitled, Sir John French, Famous Scottish Regiments, Lord Roberts of Kandahar, Australia and South Africa, Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, Canada's Fighting Troops and The Troops of the Indian Empire
222.	The Justice of Sanders	1951	The third book to extend Wallace's immensely popular "imperialist fantasy" adventure saga of Commissioner Sanders, Francis Augustus "Bones" Tibbetts, and Bosambo; follows Gerard's THE RETURN OF SANDERS OF THE RIVER and THE LAW OF THE RIVER.
223.	A Menu from the Press Club		Edgar Wallace Centenary dinner menu from 1975 with super front cartoon of W allace. Also includes a commemorative box of matches with author's replica signature presented to guests on the night

Notki – krótkie charakterystyki polskich przekładów powieści Edgara Wallace`a

L.p	Tytuł polskiego przekładu	Treść
1.	Aniol grozy 1997
2.	Biała twarz 1991	Mianem Białej Twarzy mieszkańcy Londynu określają zamaskowanego rabusia grasującego w bogatych dzielnicach miasta. Nigdy nie stosuje on przemocy. Pewnej nocy jednak, gdy popełnione zostaje tajemnicze morderstwo, podejrzania padają właśnie na Białą Twarz. Do akcji wkracza nadinspektor Mason... -- Czy sądzi pan, że każdy człowiek noszący na twarzy płócienną maskę musi być przestępcą? Zapytał spokojnie Marford. – Oczywiście jest pan zbyt rozsądny, aby żywić podobne mniemanie. Tak samo nie wierzy pan, że Chińczycy ro ludzie źli. Pytam pana o to, ponieważ człowiek, o którym kiedyś rozmawialiśmy będzie dzisiaj u mnie -- spojrzał na zegarek – i to za niecałe dziesięć minut. -- Biała Twarz? -- Mason wręcz osłupiał ze zdumienia. ( fragment powiesci)
3.	Bones w dżungli afrykańskiej 1930
4.	Bones w Londynie 1929
5.	Bosambo znad rzeki 1990	Autor znał Afrykę z własnych siedmioletnich doświadczeń i obserwacji, a był wyjątkowo bystrym obserwatorem. W tych powieściach jest przygoda, afrykańska dżungla, humor i wiele dyskretnie podanych wiadomości o Czarnym Łądzie i jego mieszkańcach na przełomie wieków.

		Kto przeczyta pierwszą książkę z tego cyklu będzie szukał następnych i często do nich wracał, chociażby tylko po to by przypomnieć sobie przygody Bosamby – groźnego wodza, sympatycznego łotrzyka, nieprzeciętnego spryciarza i domorosłego filozofa w jednej osobie.

17.	Drzwi z siedmioma zamkami 1990  [Drzwi o siedmiu zamkach 1928, 1934]	Ostatnim oficjalnym zajęciem Dicka Martina (jak sądził) było zwinąć Lwa Pheeneya, który był poszukiwany w związku z napadem na bank w Helborough. Znalazł Lwa w małej kawiarence w Soho, kiedy właśnie kończył dopijać swoją kawę. Dick Martin potrzebował niewielkiej perswazji, aby cofnąć swoją rezygnację; żałował już boiem tego, co uczynił i mimo że napisał już prośbę o dymisję, dałby majątek, aby móc wycofać list, który posłał komisarzowi. To zdumiewające jak pieniądze mogą zrujnować człowieka – powiedział ponuro kapitan Sneed.

		wierzył, że nim słońce zajdzie, koniecznie musi ujrzeć drugą. A kiedy kupił w Akwizgranie na dworcu kolejowym powieść, rozwlekle zatytułowaną „ Tylko statystka albo duma Hollywoodu”, mniej go obchodziło, że taki głupi można sprzedawać po tak wysokiej cenie, a bardziej pochłonęły go myśli, w jakich okolicznościach znowu usłyszy albo będzie czytał o statystkach jako nadliczbowych i mało znaczących aktorkach filmowych.
31.	Małpa z tykwą 1929
32.	Melodia śmierci 1937, 1930	Z dwojga nie chcę powiedzieć „ złego” wole tę powieść z naprawdę fascynującą sytuacją wstępną, do której cała reszta jest dorobiona z zawodową zręcznością.

Jest nią były oficer wojny światowej, który zrobił sobie zawód z oszukiwania i okradania odzustów i złodzieji. Oryginalny pomysł – psują pewne naiwności i niska etyka. Tłumaczka nie umie sobie dać rady ze slangiem i kolokwializmami. Władysław Tarnowski.
44.	Porucznik Bones 1930
45.	Potwór 1992, 1928, 1929	Handel narkotykami, bezpardonowa i brutalna walka między szajkami handlarzy tym towarem, policja ścigająca przestępców, intryga, przekupstwo, zdrada, tajemniczy detektyw oraz piękna, złotowłosa, o błękitnych oczach dziewczyna bezwiednie wciągnięta w sam wir wydarzeń i .... prawdziwa, gorąca miłość – to wszystko składa się na treść tej książki. Scotland Yard wszczął śledztwo; jeden z tropów prowadził do domu Dory i Marcina Eltonów, znanych policji oszustów, powiązanych z podziemnym światem Londynu. Komisarz Dick Sharon, prowadząc dochodzenie, spotkał Audrey, kiedy wyjeżdżała z rodzinnej miejscowości i zachwycony jej urodą i inteligencją – nazwał ją Księżniczką w Łachmanach. Oboje nie przypuszczali podczas tego przelotnego spotkania, że niebawem zobaczą się znowu, w dramatycznych okolicznościach, bowiem Audrey zostanie wmieszana w
